

Choir hits right note

RESIDENTS at Audley Court's Hollins Hall retirement development in Harrogate were treated to a visit from a 39-strong ladies choir as part of its ongoing entertainment programme.

'Vocal Expressions' first visited the retirement development three years ago, and residents were so impressed by their performance that the choir have been invited back every year since as a result of public demand.

David Wild, sales and marketing director for Audley Court, comments: "Once again Vocal Expressions put on a great performance that really entertained our residents.

"It is fantastic to enjoy such a close relationship with local organisations such as the choir, and we look forward to seeing them again next year!"

Audley Court residents were treated to a combination of light and serious operatic music coupled with humorous interludes.

The visit was part of an ongoing programme designed by Audley Court for its residents, which includes hosting events and arranging outings.
